Many Complaints Of Interference With Mails

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Postmaster General Work late today directed all postmasters to report to their local superintendents of the railway mail service any interference in the movement of the mails.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The determination of the federal government to maintain transportation of mails and interstate commerce during the railway mail strike failed to check today the stream of reports to the post office department of interference by strikers with mail trains.

S. H. Crisler, superintendent of the daily mail service at St. Louis, reported in telegrams to Postmaster General Work that 3,000 miles of railway mail service on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, were not being operated.

Mr. Crisler added that the fuel situation was serious because of the impossibility of getting coal moved over foreign lines from the mines for use by the road.

The St. Louis and San Francisco railway notified the department today that it had no intention of withdrawing mail trains.

No further trouble was reported to the department from Springfield and other points in Missouri, where strikers were alleged yesterday to have interfered with the movement of mail matter, and the situation at Kansas City was reported today to be improved.

The postmaster general said he had instructed the superintendent of the railway mail service here in Washington to have divisional inspectors sent to all points where railroads had reported disorders by strikers and to make reports to Washington at once.

In many instances, it was said, postal inspectors had failed to verify reports sent to the department by railway officials.

In Missouri and Louisiana it was explained, inspectors had found a less serious situation than had been reported to them.

The post office department will not, it was said, recommend drastic action by federal or state forces at any point until inspectors have made copies of the facts as reported. It was indicated at the post office department that the postmaster general was prepared to lay before the president a complete report covering the entire situation relating to alleged interference with railway mail trains throughout the country as reported to the department by both railway officials and postal inspectors.

A conference between Postmaster General Work and Attorney General Clegg may possibly be arranged later if it is found that the activities of striking railway workers are seriously menacing the railway mail service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Representatives of non-union coal operators will be called together at the end of this week to consider means of dealing with smaller operators who are selling coal at prices in advance of the maximums recently reported by voluntary agreement, Secretary Hoover said today.

Elmer Dover Resigns Post

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Information was received at the capital from treasury officials today that Elmer Dover, of Tacoma, Washington, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of customs and internal revenue and one of the principals in the Blair-Dover controversy, had submitted his resignation, effective July 15.

Secretary Mellon at the time was attending the cabinet meeting and Mr. Dover was not at his office. The information, which was regarded as fairly authoritative, was that, although Mr. Dover asked to be relieved of his post July 15, efforts were being made to have him remain for an additional sixty or ninety days.

Later at the treasury it was said the matter was one between Mr. Dover and President Harding and that Secretary Mellon had no statement to make in connection with the reports of the assistant secretary's resignation.

Mr. Dover himself would neither deny nor confirm reports of his resignation as assistant secretary of the treasury, his only statement being that he had nothing to say.

DISSATISFIED WITH HARDING'S PROPOSITION

PITTSBURGH, PA., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Directors of the National Coal Association and other leading bituminous operators have been called to meet here tomorrow morning to consider the arbitration proposal by President Harding with a view to settling the coal strike, it became known today.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Leaders of the mine workers' union and operators of anthracite and bituminous mines who met President Harding's offer of arbitration yesterday as the government solution of the suspension of operations in union fields were still in the throes of decision today over acceptance or refusal, but semi-officially it was stated the government expected to have answers Saturday.

In spite of a careful guarding of statements, there was a degree of dissatisfaction with the terms of the president's offer on both sides and some questions as to the eventual outcome. The union officials had deliberately postponed their decision problem until Saturday when the general policy committee of the United Mine Workers will meet to pass upon the issue, but the employers had committed themselves actually at Washington.

The government's first concern is the northwestern coal supply, it was said.

Strike Bulletins

Signalmen Not To Strike

CHICAGO, July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen will not strike for the present at least, according to a statement issued this morning by D. W. Helt, president of the organization. The decision was arrived at after a conference between the executive board of the union and the railroad labor board.

Mr. Helt's statement said that the signalmen would take up all questions of disagreement with the roads separately and in case an understanding could not be arrived at the matter would be taken up again with the United States Railroad Labor Board.

Mr. Helt's announcement says the program of the signalmen's union will be to take up with each carrier the outstanding controversies, including the question of revising the recent wage decision of the labor board, certain changes in rules and the method determining pay for men of less than four years' experience.

In case the union fails to obtain "fair and reasonable concessions," the statement says, the matter will be brought before the railroad labor board with the assurance that they shall be given the right of way.

The signalmen will continue to work under the present wage decision under protest. The union has 12,000 members.

54 TRAINS ON WABASH CANCELLED

DANVILLE, ILL., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Fifty-four trains, six of them entering Danville, have been taken off the Wabash Railway, it was announced here today. Officials here said the curtailment was due to lack of coal coming from Kentucky and not due to the strike.

Guardsmen Arrive To Protect Shops

TOPEKA, KANSAS, July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Two hundred men of the Kansas national guard arrived at Herrington today to guard the Rock Island shops and the water main leading from the city pumping station to the shops.

Troops And Snipers Battle

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—More than 300 shots exchanged by the state guardsmen and snipers marked the first night's control of the Chicago and Alton shops by troops.

Two men hidden in a gulley north of the shops fired twice at sentries shortly before 3:30 a. m. Three hundred rounds from automatic rifles were poured into the gulley.

At daylight the place was searched, but no trace of the snipers found.

Shooting was resumed at 7:15 this morning when snipers fired on a sentry at the northeast edge of the shop yards.

No one was wounded on the soldiers' side during the night.

It was unofficially reported at the guard camp, this morning that two more companies of troops would arrive today. It is also understood that non-union workers will arrive from Chicago today. Arrangements have been made to meet their train with two companies of troops to escort them to work.

Ninety-four non-union workmen arrived this morning. They were searched by the troops and a gun was found sticking out of one man's sock. It was confiscated.

Colonel Culbertson has issued orders that all workmen going into the shops be searched for weapons and liquor.

"If there is any fighting to be done, we will do it," the colonel said.

Crowds of strikers and strike sympathizers began crowding around the shops this morning and at ten o'clock orders were issued to set up machine guns covering every entrance.

Colonel Culbertson at 10:30 o'clock denied that more than four shots were fired last night. Some one, he said, fired at a sentry with a shot gun and the sentry fired three times in the direction of the flash. Seven citizens living near the shops, however, telegraphed Governor Small that approximately 200 shots were fired in the direction of their homes last night and they asked that the militia men be restrained from further shooting.

Despite Colonel Culbertson's report, a shopman, who spent the night in the shops and heard the shooting, said he was told by the officers on duty that 200 shots had been fired. Colonel Culbertson denied the report of the men in the shops that automatic rifles had been used.

NO REPORT OF NUMBER OUT

CINCINNATI, O., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Officials at headquarters of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Station and Express Employees said today they had received no reports as to the number of clerks on the Norfolk and Western railroad who were called out on a strike authorized for 10 a. m. today. They said they probably would not have a report before night.

Clerical work on the N. & W. in Cincinnati is handled by the Pennsylvania railroad by 90 clerks. T. A. Penry, freight agent of the Pennsylvania and N. & W. announced that none of the clerks employed there had quit up to noon today.

STRIKE OFFICIALLY SANCTIONED

CINCINNATI, O., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—A strike of railway clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees on the Norfolk and Western railroad has been sanctioned by Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald, according to J. D. Mumby, assistant to Fitzgerald at the headquarters of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, here, today.

Mumby stated that sanction to strike authorized about 1,400 members of the brotherhood on the N. & W. to leave work at 10 a. m. today, the time fixed by the brotherhood's general chairman of the system at Roanoke, Va. The sanction, he said, was given in a telegram to Richard P. Dee, vice grand president of the brotherhood, who had gone to Roanoke to investigate the situation there.

The Norfolk and Western runs from Norfolk, Va., to Cincinnati and Columbus, and the strike calls out the railway clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees on the lines in those cities and all other cities on the line.

Mumby also stated that chairman of the brotherhood have been advised that the executive board of the brotherhood on the Chesapeake and Ohio system was to present resolutions to the officials of the road at Richmond, Va., at 9:00 a. m. today protesting against a cut in wages and demanding full time vacation without involving extra hours of work.

The brotherhood has 2,200 members on that system, it was stated.

STRIKE CALL ISSUED BY LANE

ROANOKE, VA., July 11.—A general strike of members of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Station Employees and Freight Handlers on the Norfolk and Western railway was called to take effect at 10 a. m. today. The strike order, issued last night by C. B. Lane, general chairman of the organization, on the N. & W. was said to have been sanctioned by E. H. Fitzgerald, grand president of the brotherhood, in a telegram to R. P. Dee, vice president, who has been here conducting an investigation of the walk-out of about 150 clerks last week. The total membership of the union over the Norfolk and Western system is placed by union officials at 1,800.

In addition to a reduction of wages, other grievances of the employees were said to be elimination of sick leave and vacation. In a letter to members of the union directing them to quit work today, Mr. Lane instructed that they appoint "committees for picketing which must be peaceably done," and warned the membership against "any disorderly conduct of interference with the railway company's property."

Increasing Disorders

CHICAGO, July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Increasing disorders, curtailment of train service and additional troops on duty at several trouble centers, marked the progress of the rail strike today. Banks of the strikers also were recruited as clerks on the Norfolk and Western were authorized to strike at 10 a. m. today.

Troops Guard Points

Troops were on guard over railroad property at Bloomington and Clinton, Illinois, Parsons, Kansas, and New Franklin, Missouri, with other units under arms ready to entrain.

United States marshals were protecting the mails on southwestern lines and guarding the Burlington shops at Aurora, Ill., which had been surrounded by 1,000 pickets.

Blanketed By Injunction Many rail centers were blanketed by injunctions issued by federal courts restraining strikers from interfering with operation of trains and shops. Picketing was general throughout the country.

New York and the east began to feel the combined effects of the strike of coal miners and railway shopmen. Twenty-one passenger trains on the Erie were discontinued and all express trains on the Norfolk & Western were said to have been delayed three to six hours because of a shortage of locomotives and coal.

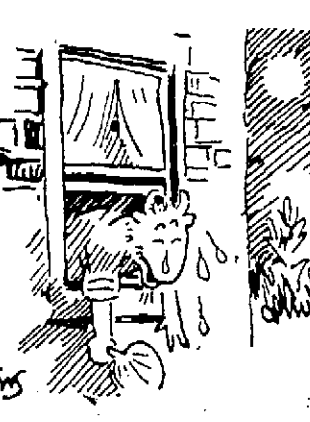

Union Leaders Claim 100 Per Cent Following mass meetings of strikers in the New York area, union leaders declared that their followers were 100 per cent staunch and would refuse to be intimidated by threats of loss of positions and seniority rights.

Some eastern roads, including the Pennsylvania and the New York Central, announced they had enough mechanics, surplus locomotives and rolling stock to continue present service indefinitely.

CLERKS MAY JOIN STRIKE; MEET TONIGHT

Unofficial announcement that the N. & W. clerks here would walk out at ten o'clock tomorrow morning was the only new development in the railroad strike situation here today. The clerks are to hold a meeting at the Security bank assembly room tonight at 7:30 o'clock, at which time the members will vote on the hour they will walk away from their jobs in the office, at the N. & W. terminal tomorrow.

This afternoon an official of the union stated that the probable time for the walk-out would be ten o'clock tomorrow morning. A strike of the clerks was sanctioned today by Grand President Fitzgerald, with headquarters in Chicago.

The local union includes clerks and freight handlers and the membership numbers between 75 and 100. The walkout of the clerks means the union freight handlers at the local freight stations would walk out also.

The press committee of the striking shopmen reported nothing new from their side this afternoon, but express gratification over the announcement that the clerks were to join them in the strike.

The striking shopmen are remaining out 100 per cent, according to their representatives, and although they have reports that men are being imported to work in the shops at Williamson, they say that no one is being imported to do their work in the local shops at East Portsmouth.

At the office of the N. & W. in East Portsmouth this afternoon it was stated that conditions remained the same as the last few days. No word other than press reports had been received at the office relative to the strike of the clerks and freight handlers.

Mr. Baggs Is Given Jewel

A distinct honor was conferred upon A. J. Baggs, venerable father of F. M. Baggs, when the two visited at Bellaire over the Fourth of July, an honor that came to Mr. Baggs because of his upright life and the fact that he has devoted many long years to his Masonic duties. On the evening of July 6th, Messrs. Baggs attended Hope Commandery at Bellaire by special invitation. At a given time, the aged Mr. Baggs was called before the large crowd and not only felicitated upon his long and useful life as a Mason, but presented with a handsome Past Commander's Jewel.

The occasion was one of the happiest in the long life of Mr. Baggs for it was 48 years ago that Hope Commandery was instituted, with Mr. Baggs as one of the eleven signers on the charter list. Incidentally, Mr. Baggs was appointed the first Eminent Commander of Hope Commandery, and was the first Council Master to be elected. He was the first Council Master to be elected. He was the first Council Master to be elected. He was the first Council Master to be elected.

Perhaps Mr. Baggs holds a state record, Masonically speaking. He has now celebrated his fiftieth year as a member of all Masonic bodies. There are any number of men who have been Masons for half a century, but not in all the various bodies. Mr. Baggs was elected the Master of the Barnesville lodge, fifty-five years ago and he is never known to miss a meeting of his lodge unless incapacitated by illness. Hale and strong, he today celebrated his 82nd anniversary and is never happier than when he is within sound of the gavel.

Mr. Baggs was elected Eminent Commander in 1874 and was dubbed and created a Knight in 1871. He was Thrice Illustrious of Barnesville Council, inaugurated in 1902.

Mr. Baggs was much affected by the display of fellowship on the part of his brethren, but he responded to the presentation speech in his own impressive way. He carried many back to the days of their boyhood and went back in Masonic history even further than the oldest member present could remember. His speech was teeming full of historical facts that held the undivided attention of those fortunate enough to be present.

He was followed by his son, F. M. Baggs, who caught the inspiration for his talk from his father's address. Mr. Baggs stated that it was his honor to be installed as the Eminent Commander of Calvary Commandery by his venerable father—that one of his choicest possessions was the sword given him by his father that had been presented to him when elected as Eminent Commander of Hope Commandery 48 years ago. F. M. brought out what it meant to be a Mason of 55 years standing—told of the difficulties the Masons of more than fifty years encountered while attending to their Masonic duties—accounted that now the members rode to and from the lodge meetings in autos—met in brilliantly lighted quarters. Fifty and more years ago it was on horse back or on foot. Masons traveled—many of them more than ten miles that they might attend lodge.

A. J. Baggs returned home last evening and is celebrating his 82nd birthday anniversary at the home of his son on Grant street. He is enjoying the best of health and looks fair to round out a century of life.

Girl Avenges Father's Death

MEXICO CITY, July 11.—(By Associated Press.)—The shooting of Deputy Francisco Tejeda Lloren, by which Maria Del Pilar Moreno, aged 17, avenged her father's death, has provided Mexico with a sensation.

Popular sympathy is with the child, who, armed with a small revolver given her last Christmas by her father, the editor of El Heraldo de Mexico, set out alone to satisfy a crime which apparently Mexican justice was unable to touch. She declared.

Insurgents Wreck Railroads

LONDON, July 11.—(By Associated Press.)—Reports of the wrecking of railway lines by Irish insurgents indicate that the Republicans present plan of campaign aims at preventing the movement of free state troops.

The Republicans are stated to be strengthening themselves in the southeast where they have mined the roads and cut the railroad communication with Dublin.

The notice, "Please close the door," appears in 14 different languages on the door of one of the public offices in London.

Moratorium For Germany Proposed

PARIS, July 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—A moratorium on Germany's cash payments for the remainder of this year was thought in circles close to the reparations commission to be quite probable as a result of a conference this forenoon between Dr. Fischer, chairman of the German war debts commission, and all the members of the commission in a hurriedly called informal session. Roland W. Boyden, the United States representative with the commission took part in the conference. Dr. Fischer told the commission the Germans would present a formal request for a moratorium at a meeting called by the commission for tomorrow, suggesting cancellation of all the remaining payments this year, leaving the matter of a moratorium thereafter open for time being. Under this arrangement the question of the further moratorium would be decided later.

It is understood that the majority of the commission sees no other way out of the present crisis and is therefore prepared to vote a temporary moratorium, particularly because there is general realization that no loan to Germany is immediately possible and that relief from present conditions must come quickly.

Dr. Fischer told the commission that Germany had succeeded in getting together sufficient foreign exchange to meet the payment of fifty million gold marks due July 15, but whether this payment will be exacted has not yet been decided.

Britain And France Watchful
LONDON, July 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—Great Britain and France are in close communication concerning Germany's financial position and the reparations question and Premier Poincare is said to plan conference to London shortly for a conference with Prime Minister Lloyd George. The date of his arrival, however, will not be fixed until the report of the allied committee on guarantees, now sitting in Berlin, is received and considered. The report is expected some time this week.

The international financial situation came before the British cabinet at a meeting today, especially in its relation to the collapse of the German mark. Among the data available to the ministers were special dispatches from the British ambassador in Berlin outlining conditions in Germany.

FRENCH OPPOSED TO IT
PARIS, July 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—The French government is opposed to an immediate meeting of the allied powers to discuss the reparations situation and it will only consent to such a meeting as a final step. This was made plain in official circles today after a conference between President Douais of the commission, and Premier Poincare.

WARD DENIED DISMISSAL OF CHARGES

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 11.—(By Associated Press.)—Supreme Court Justice Seeger late today denied an application of Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker's son, for dismissal of the first degree murder indictment charging him with the slaying of Clarence Peters, a former sailor.

Justice Seeger, however, ordered Ward released in $50,000 bail, holding there were several circumstances in connection with the case which seemed unfair that Ward be held in prison to await trial next October.

Missouri Cities Face Heat, Water, Light Famine; Fuel Scarce

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—(By Associated Press.)—Missouri cities probably will be without heat, light and water by September 1, unless the coal miners' strike is ended by August 1. The Missouri public utilities commission declared today in a report, which estimated that the strike thus far has cost the Missouri public utility companies $400,000. The public utilities of the state have been able to gather a supply of fuel that will last for forty days longer the report said, and unless the miners return to work by August 1, the companies will be in serious straits.

Dr. Mytinger Suffering From Typhus

Dr. George S. Mytinger, of Chillicothe, and who was formerly located here is suffering from typhus at his home in that city. Columbus specialists Monday officially reported that Dr. Mytinger's illness had been diagnosed as typhus. He has been ill almost three weeks, but has improved to such an extent that he is now able to be up most of the day and apparently is well on the road to recovery. His typhus case is said to be the only one in Ohio.

Concerning his illness the Scioto Gazette says:

"Dr. George S. Mytinger of Chillicothe is suffering with typhus fever. The announcement of the diagnosis was made by health authorities Monday morning. The diagnosis card being filed by Drs. Hays and Perrin, Mytinger's attending physicians. The diagnosis was made after an examination by a Columbus specialist and laboratory analysis.

"This is the first case of typhus fever on the local health records and it is believed to be the only one on record in the state of Ohio at the time.

"How Dr. Mytinger, who is improving nicely, became infected is a matter of mystery and only conjecture is offered in explanation by health officials.

"According to local health officials all authorities on the disease state that it is transmitted from one victim to another by the bite of the body louse. It is thought that Dr. Mytinger in attending some transient might have become infected in this way, the transient either being a carrier of the disease or else recovering from a mild case.

"Locally, there is no need to fear an epidemic of this dread disease which proved so fatal during the war in European countries, for every precaution has been taken at the Mytinger home. No one has been allowed to see the doctor and he has had the excellent care of his wife, who is a trained nurse, and Miss Helen VanMeter who was a nurse in the typhus camps of Serbia, and is well-informed on the subject.

"Friends of Dr. Mytinger will be glad to learn that he is well on the road to recovery and that it will only be a matter of a few days until he will be up and around."

LOCAL BOYS PLAYING FINE BALL

Portsmouth players who are drawing salary in the Blue Grass League are holding up their end in great style, judging from a clipping received at The Times office Tuesday. "Piggy" Blake, Potts, Monk and "Lefty" Townsend are with the Mt. Sterling team, while "Hi" Fortner is with Maysville. Ralph Keyser, but recently returned from Mt. Sterling and is now playing short for the Central Labor team of the Industrial League.

Blake is the leading home run hitter of the league and second in total bases. He won for Mt. Sterling against the Lexington team last Sunday, when he belted a home run with one man on. The feat won 3 to 2. Blake is hitting at an even 300 clip. Potts, first baseman, is up among the leaders with an average of .277. "Widge" Monk is hitting

.241. Keyser earned an average of .229 in fifteen games. Hi Fortner is leading the league in stolen bases, having pilfered 10 bases, but he is only hitting .211. Townsend is batting in his usual strength, .443. He has won 4 games and lost 8. Tavernier, who pitched for the N. & W. boys at the Industrial League grounds, has won 4 and lost 4. His old trouble of control is still his drawback, for he has walked 47 men and hit 13 and made 3 wild pitches. He is second in strike outs, having fanned 72 victims, which shows he has the stuff when he gets the ball over. According to a well defined rumor, he is marked for a trial in faster company this season, and may go to the Cincinnati Reds. His only fault is lack of control, and it is thought he will remedy that when he is properly coached.

Church Federation Asks Candidates' Attitude On Movie Censorship

COLUMBUS, O., July 11—Every primary candidate for Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Attorney General was asked today in a letter from the Ohio Federation of Churches to state his attitude on the question of state movie censorship.

"We stand with Mr. Will Hays in all he can do to clean up the movies nationally, but frankly disagree with him that it will make state censorship unnecessary," the letter said.

Federal regulation, it asserted, cannot serve as a substitute for state control.

The candidates are informed that the Ohio Federation of Churches, comprise 15 Protestant denominations with a combined membership of more than 1,000,000 in Ohio.

TWENTY-FOUR YEARS AGO

E. H. Jones, who did work on the Daily News, left for Columbus where he secured a position on the staff of the Ohio State Journal.

C. O. Meeks and John Joseph, of this city, started on their wheels for points in northern Virginia on a pleasure and business trip combined. Paul Esselhorn was joined as the wonder pitcher. His opponents, the Normal University nine, couldn't locate his curves. Owing to the fact that his catcher's name was Peter Webb the small boys yelled: "Peter and Paul, the apostolic battery."

A. Seel's delivery horse celebrates the day with two runaways and causes quite a little excitement on Second street.

Col. Frank White, Rev. Dr. Tupper and Theo. P. Doty reported that they saw a magnificent specimen of the American eagle flying over the city. About this time the news of Sampson's glorious victory came in and the good omen of the bird of freedom made a reality.

George M. Krieger, Will Zottman, and Ed Correll were judges in a bicycle race to New Boston. Albert Zoellner and Dan Conroy were timers and Sid Cockerill starter.

Ohio Law On Safety Devices "Mere Scrap Of Paper" Says Court

COLUMBUS, O., July 11—The Ohio law requiring employers to equip machinery with safety devices has been reduced to a meaningless "scrap of paper" by the supreme court in the case of Frank Silegowski against the Toledo Cooker Company. Judge Wamaker delivered in a dissenting opinion handed down today.

The court by a 4 to 3 decision held against Silegowski who had sued for damages, the court ruling that the statutes impose merely a "common law" duty of ordinary care.

"It therefore holds," said Wamaker, that said statute has no force and effect and is not a "lawful requirement" as used in the constitution and statutes. If it is not a civil "lawful requirement," clearly it is not a criminal "lawful requirement" though upon its face it purports to be. Being neither it is "nothing—nothing but a scrap of paper."

Judges Johnson and Marshall voted with Judge Wamaker against the decision of the majority. Silegowski had lost a hand in a punching machine.

Enjoying Motor Trip

Arthur H. Bannan, who with his wife and daughters, Katherine and Edith, is motoring to Osterville, Cape Cod, Mass., has written a most interesting descriptive letter to his mother, Mrs. Mary Bannan, treating at length the beauty of the scenery and the enjoyments of the trip.

Mr. Bannan says, in part:

"The district between Niagara and Rochester is a great fruit section, and we actually passed through forty miles of orchards of cherry trees, laden with cherries and it was a wonderful sight. One lady of whom we bought a box sold hers by the ton on the trees, at $250 per ton; and her crop last year was only six tons, but this year she will have 25 or 30 tons.

Of course they were apples, peaches and pears, but the cherries made the show because they were ripe and red. Figure up how cheap these cherries are, compared with ours."

Fence Damaged

A machine driven by a woman whose name was not learned, backed into a fence at the side of the road near the Old Town church on the West Side and was slightly damaged. There were seven people in the machine at the time who narrowly escaped injury when the machine tipped going off the road and almost overturned.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With

If you want to keep your child's hair in good condition, be careful that you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and cut-free greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Multisified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multisified.

BONEHEAD PLAYS

FORGETTING the number of men that are out is a common fault in baseball.

Any number of ludicrous situations have been created because some players thought two were out instead of one.

In the majors and minors every year a score or more of "bones" are pulled because the player making the play lost track of the outs.

In a game at New York a number of years ago, both teams and the umpire became confused as to the number of outs.

The two clubs proceeded to change sides when only two men were out, and only the wild shouts of the official scorer that only two men had been retired, cleared up the situation.

However, the prize play featuring the failure to keep track of the outs, goes to "Doc" Gessler, who was a mighty good ball player. Gessler played in both the American and National Leagues. He was a college graduate and a mighty bright chap, but it's just as easy for a collegian to pull a "bone" as a sandlotter, if he forgets how many men are out.

Gessler was playing with Chicago Cubs when he pulled his classic in ivory.

It was the first of the ninth, the bases were filled, one out and the score mighty close.

Gessler evidently thought two men were out, for when he made a remarkable catch of a hard-hit fly ball, he believed the side had been retired and started for the clubhouse at top speed.

Believe his teammates could make him realize that only two were out, all three runners had scored on Gessler's mental lapse.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woe, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—As you have helped so many others I am coming to you for a little advice. I have a Copenhagen blue raincoat dress and have only worn it once. It looks so nice and I want to know whether it can be washed successfully or is there some other safer way to clean it. Thanking you for advice.

BROWN

Dear Dolly—Will you please print a recipe in your column for blackberry wine. It is S. Wash berries and allow to ferment 24 hours, then press out juice and add as much water as you have juice, so three pounds of sugar to one gallon of juice. Put this in a keg until sometime in September, then it will be ready to bottle.

TIMES READER—There were 2,724,408 United States troops engaged in the Civil War. I do not know how many are living now.

First, sand paper the panel and then smooth down with fine emery paper.

Dear Miss Wise—I am making a radio set and am going to use a bakelite panel; and would thank you very much if you would tell me how to take the shine off the panel and make it look like the panels on the sets that one sees at a radio store.

RADIO BUG.

Rub it with sandpaper or emery cloth.

I have the phone numbers of two girls who would like to take care of children and help with the housework during the summer vacation.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please write and tell me whom to write to at the Red Cross for some help? There is no one but myself and my husband and we are both old and need help. I thought I would write to the Red Cross. Please give me the address.

Write to the Red Cross Service Section at 78 First National Bank Building, Phone No. 1787. Ask for Mr. Gillman and he will help you.

Dear Miss Wise—We are two girls 18 and 19 and met two fellows the Fourth of July that were going to Buffalo, New York, right away. They said if we would come to them they would send us the money to come on or come back to Portsmouth after us. What would you advise us to do, go with them or stay here in Portsmouth? Anxiously waiting for your answer.

TWO CHUMS

No, I would not go with them. If you just met them the Fourth of July you don't know a thing about them.

Answer Soon Anxious—No I don't think he will give you money back. It doesn't pay to foot with quick doctors and it isn't safe to take medicine that has never passed the pure drug act.

Dear Dolly—Will you please print this in your column? If any old people want a country home, both man and woman or either, and some one to care for them, please write at once to CLARISSA JARVIS, York, W. Va.

A trial of Buile's Best Flour will make you a regular user.

Help the Kidneys Fight That Cold

Colds and grip cause thousands of cases of kidney trouble. In any germ disease the system becomes filled with poisons which the kidneys must filter off. All too often this extra burden weakens the kidneys. Then you have constant backache, headache and dizziness; you lack ambition, feel dull, nervous and depressed. Don't ignore these warnings! Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Home folks recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

WHOM SHALL MOLLY MARRY? CAN BEN CRUSH BILLY?

—BY ZOE BECKLEY—

AS Molly reached the street from Barton's office she almost ran into Ben Wheeler's arms as he swung from his big car.

How like Ben to come flying around on the instant to find out what had occurred—and would occur! With a masterful hand at her elbow, he helped her in.

In a way Ben was a man to be proud of. Not ill-looking; handsome rather, in a big, harsh way. In his carriage, his voice, his very grooming and clothes, he was the prosperous American.

If only Ben had a strain of softness, sweetness, a bit of subtle understanding! If only he—

Molly's reverie was broken as, swerving the car into the River Road, Ben spoke suddenly.

"That fellow can't win, Molly. I've just won over Collins and Meyer of the committee, which means Barton's plans are rejected. As for his suit against me, I'll fight him to the Supreme Court. What will he be when I'm through with him?"

"Come, Molly, chuck peering and marry me."

Revelation possessed her. This was Ben at his worst.

"Not yet, Ben. I want to see if you and your money are as strong as Billy and his ability are as easily ruined as you think. Hasn't it occurred to you this fight may make instead of ruin him? Anyhow, I am with him and I can't go on working for you."

The hum of the motor purred to a lower key and the car stopped on a promontory above the river. Ben pushed back his cap and cleared his throat, turning mutely to Molly.

"Molly, I—listen—" he stammered, "you're on my side. Very well, I'll get you on mine before I'm done. But the point is, no matter who you're for, don't leave the Wheeler Works, Molly. We need you. It is enough for Barton that you're on his side; you can at least—"

She knew what he wanted to say and could not. It was as nearly an emotional appeal as he could manage.

"All right, Ben," she said softly after a pause, "I'll stay."

(Toilet Talks)

A stiff paste made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on a hairy surface about 2 minutes will, when removed, take every trace of hair with it. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining delatone. No harm can result from this treatment, but be sure it is delatone you get and you will not be disappointed. Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Yes," he said gravely, with a queer look at Cutie, "he's dreadfully sick."

ONE morning Mrs. Cottontail telephoned Dr. Snuffles, the fairymen doctor, when Nancy and Nick were helping.

"I wish you'd stop in and see Cutie," she begged. "He's dreadfully sick and can't go to school."

So Dr. Snuffles hurried right over without calling the nice breakfast Nancy had fixed for him.

There lay Cutie rolling over and over, and moaning and groaning. Dr. Snuffles looked at Cutie's tongue. Then he felt Cutie's pulse and put a big thermometer into his mouth.

"Yes," said he gravely with a queer look at Cutie, "he's dreadfully sick. You'll have to pull down all the blinds and close all the doors and leave him quite by himself."

"He must not see anybody at all! And above everything else he mustn't have a single thing to eat. Not a thing!"

Cutie opened one eye and then the other and looked at the doctor.

"Couldn't I have just a little nibble of fresh lettuce or a little pea-soup?" he asked in a weak voice.

"Not a thing!" declared the doctor, sinking a large bottle. "And see to it, please, Mr. Cottontail, that he gets a large spoonful of this bitter medicine every half hour, mixed with a little mustard and red pepper. He must stay in bed two weeks."

"Can't I have anything to eat, or read a book, or see my friends, or—"

Months Of Suffering

How a Baltimore Girl Recovered Her Health

Baltimore, Maryland.—"For several months I suffered with severe backache and general weakness. I could not sleep comfortably at night for pains in my back. I found your book at home one day and after reading it began at once to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had very good results and some of my girl friends are taking it now. You may use this letter to help other girls, as the letters in your book helped me."

—ROSE WADNER, 3018 Roseland Place, Baltimore, Md.

That is the thought so often expressed in letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a medicine made from medicinal roots and herbs, and without drugs, to relieve the weakness women so often have, which is indicated by backache, weak feelings, nervousness, and no ambition to get anything done or to go anywhere. It has helped many women. Why not try it?

Will Address Republicans

When the Essex County Republican Club meets tonight it is hoped to have the record attendance of the year to hear Lieut. Gov. Clarence Brown and Sen. William H. Chace, candidates for Secretary of State and Lieutenant Governor, respectively, whose addresses will be the features of the meeting. Other candidates will probably be in attendance. Thomas Jenkins of Ironton, candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senator from this district, has stated that he will be here. J. A. Shriver, his opponent from Adams county, is serving on a petit jury in West Union and will probably be unable to attend the meeting; and Senator C. K. Patterson of Pikeston, who is out for a third term, has not said whether he can come or not.

Death Claims Colonel Bassell

News has been received here of the passing away of Colonel John Young Bassell, whose death occurred at his home in Leesburg, Va. He was well known in Portsmouth. Relative to his passing the Ohio State Journal Monday said: "Colonel Bassell's death was not unexpected to those intimately acquainted with his condition, although it came very suddenly. The duration of the fatal attack was not more than five minutes. Nobody was present but Dr. Harry and John Gibson, both close friends of the colonel and living near his house, and Mrs. Bassell. She summoned both physicians by telephone when Colonel Bassell's condition alarmed her. Death was caused by acute indigestion. Although the intense energy of Colonel Bassell's life in Columbus had worn the vital machinery, he was of robust appearance and could not be persuaded that his vitality was diminished seriously. He had dined heartily at 6 o'clock Saturday evening and it is supposed that this brought on the fatal stroke. He had been deeply interested in the unveiling earlier in the afternoon of a monument here to the world war dead of Loudoun county, in which his home is situated. He had been forbidden by his physicians to have any part in the ceremony, but had been watching with much interest a parade of a company of marines and ex-service men and the gathering of the people. This suppressed excitement is supposed to have been a contributing cause of his death. Gold was discovered at Leesville, Cal. in 1848, only eight miles from the present Lincoln Highway."

Visit Old Home

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rothschild of Ashland, Ky., and Mrs. Sam Rosenthal of Portsmouth, Ohio, arrived here last Thursday to look after the grave of the ladies' father, the late Abo Nathan, who died in this city over 30 years ago. Mrs. Rothschild will be better remembered here as Miss Bertha Nathan, and Mrs. Rosenthal, as Miss Carrie Nathan. Bertha was married in this city to Mr. Rothschild thirty years ago last Thursday, the day they arrived in Attica. Abo Nathan, the father of Mrs. Rothschild and Mrs. Rosenthal, was in the clothing business many years ago, and occupied the south room in the old frame building which stood there the Central National building now stands. The Bidwell Candy Factory now stands on the exact spot formerly occupied by the Nathan store room. There has been almost a complete change in the business men of Attica since Mrs. Rothschild and Mrs. Rosenthal left Attica. George Feuerstein, and Horace Brant, grocers, and Miss Jennie Deacock, milliner, are the only store proprietors here who were in the same business when these ladies were residents of Attica. The older citizens of Attica will recall that Mrs. Nathan was seriously injured in the cyclone which struck Attica May 12, 1886. Mr. and Mrs. Rothschild and Mrs. Rosenthal left Friday afternoon for their homes.—Fountain-Warren Democrat (Attica, Fountain County, Indiana, July 6).

Strikers Say Engines Are Not In Repair

COLUMBUS, O., July 11.—Charges that federal inspectors are permitting the railroads to operate engines in condition of repair that would not have been permitted before the strike of shopmen, were made today by C. J. Smith, chairman of the Norfolk and Western strike committee. Smith also charged that the Norfolk and Western took two engines out yesterday without the air hose being coupled, which he says is a violation of the federal laws. He said he was going to take the matter up with the local federal district attorney.

The Angeline

One of the popular sellers this season is the one strap sandal, made of Patent Colt, plain toe and med-lum heel. Outside of the excellent quality in these shoes the mark of distinction is the simplicity of the pattern, stylish to a degree, attractive but not gaudy. I have this same pattern in white Nile cloth, also oxfords if you wish. Barefoot Sandals for the children.

PRISONER LEAPS FROM TRAIN; NABBED HERE

George Roseblock, aged 22, who admits he shot a man while he was a resident of Stony Cliff, W. Va., in 1918 was arrested in Portsmouth, Ind., Sunday by Detective H. L. Gibson of Chicago.

Roseblock was on his way to Stony Cliff and he and Detective Gibson were passengers on the late C. & O. train last night. As the train neared the South Portsmouth depot Roseblock, who was handcuffed asked to step into the lavatory. After the permission was granted Roseblock pushed a window and leaped out of it while the train was traveling at a high rate of speed. He escaped unhurt. He flitted with death to effect his escape, but his freedom was short lived.

After he worked his way across the Ohio this morning and was walking towards the city a farmer noticed that Roseblock had handcuffs on one hand, he having worked one hand free after his thrilling leap from the fast traveling midnight C. & O. flyer.

The farmer telephoned Sheriff Ricker. Getting into a machine Deputy Bennett lost no time in reaching the West Side and soon bumped into Roseblock, who was walking briskly to the city. He was placed under arrest and occupies a cell at the county jail.

He admitted to Sheriff Ricker and a Times man this morning that in 1918 he shot a store keeper in Stony Cliff in the shoulder. It was only a flesh wound and the man soon recovered. Roseblock said today. "The man started after me after we had an argument and I shot first. That is all there is to the shooting story."

Roseblock, who is a clean cut young man and only 22 years of age, says he had been working in Peru and Chicago and that Detective Gibson knew him and arrested him on sight as he had a warrant for his arrest for more than two years.

Sheriff Ricker is trying to locate Gibson and inform him that his prisoner is under arrest here. Despite the fact that Roseblock fell on his head when he leaped through the train window he did not receive a scratch and laughed and joked with those who talked to him while in his cell.

586 Shopmen Out In Chillicothe

The Chillicothe News-Advertiser Monday said:

"Fifty-eight local B. & O. employees joined the ranks of the striking shopmen Monday, bringing the total of men here on a walkout up to 586. It was learned officially today.

"Men who struck today include the following: Stationary firemen, oilers, ash-pit men, fire knockers, engine repairmen, engine watchmen, snodhouse and supply men and all laborers in and about the roundhouse, shops and car yards.

"The first sign of any disorder as a result of the strike locally, came when Sherman Bordner, night shift foreman, swore out complaints charging assault and battery against seven of the striking shopmen.

"Bordner's statement to the police was to the effect that while on his way to work, the above-mentioned men threw rocks and cinders at him, knocked him from his bicycle and beat him up.

"Strikers concerned, however, told the police that they did not throw cinders or rocks at Bordner, but that he, in his haste to get to the shops, fell off his wheel and sustained the injuries he had. A union official stated that he had learned that the men were walking close behind Bordner and that when he stumbled over a cinder and fell down, a man following was so close on his heels that he fell on top of Bordner."

SCARAMOUCHE

by Rafael Sabatini

BEGIN HERE TODAY

To escape hanging on the charge of sedition.

ANDRE-LOUIS MOREAU flees from his native town of Gavrillac and conceals his identity by joining a band of strolling players in which he makes a great success in the part of SCARAMOUCHE.

His flight has caused him to delay revenge on the great and powerful MARQUIS DE LA TOUR D'AZYR, who tricked Andre-Louis' dearest friend, PHILIPPE DE VILMORIN, into a duel and then killed him because he feared the idealist's "dangerous gift of eloquence."

Over the dead body of his friend, Andre-Louis swore to carry on the work of reforming the lot of the down-trodden peasants. Scaramouche, as he is now called, falls in love with CLIMENE, daughter of MONSIEUR BINET, the owner of the troupe. They become engaged and Andre-Louis has forgotten.

ALINE DE KERADJOU, the friend of his childhood, who horrified him by listening to the suit of the Marquis. While walking with Climene, he unexpectedly meets Aline.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Andre-Louis stepped back. His eyes gleamed a moment; the next they were smiling up into the face of his tall enemy.

"No better than the others, after all! Well, well! Remark, I beg you!

how history repeats itself—with certain differences. Because poor Vilmorin could not bear a vile life with which you goaded him. He struck you. Because you cannot bear an equally vile ruin which I have uttered, you strike me. But always is the villainess yours. And now as then for the striker there is I. He broke off. "But there, I will meet you if you desire it, monster."

"What else do you suppose that I desire? To talk?"

Andre-Louis turned to his friends and sighed. "So that I am to go another jump to the Bois. Isaac, perhaps you will kindly have a word with one of these friends of M. le Marquis, and arrange for nine o'clock tomorrow, as usual."

CHAPTER VIII
MONDAY morning, at a quarter past eight, as with Le Chapelier, Andre-Louis was rising from the table to set out for the Bois, his housekeeper startled him by announcing Mademoiselle de Keradjou.

He looked at his watch. Although his cabriolet was already at the door he had a few minutes to spare. He excused himself from Le Chapelier, and went briskly out to the ante-room.

She advanced to meet him, her manner eager, almost feverish.

"I will not affect ignorance of why you have come," he said quickly, to make short work. "But time presses, and I warn you that only the most solid of reasons can be worth stating."

"But . . . Oh, Andre, this meeting must not take place!" She came close up to him, to set her hands upon his shoulders, and stood so, her face within a foot of his own.

"You know, of course, of some good reason why it should not?" said he.

"You may be killed," she answered him, and her eyes dilated as she spoke.

It was far from anything that he had expected that for a moment he could only stare at her. Then he thought he had understood. He laughed as he removed her hands from his shoulders, and stepped back. This was a shallow device, childish and unworthy in her.

would afford me so great an opportunity of keeping it."

"You have not kept it yet," she warned him.

He smiled at her. "True!" he said. "But nine o'clock will soon be here. Tell me," he asked her suddenly, "why did you not carry this request of yours to M. de La Tour d'AZYR?"

"I did," she answered him and flushed as she remembered her yesterday's rejection. He interpreted the flush quite otherwise.

"M. de La Tour d'AZYR's obligation . . . she was beginning; then she broke off to answer shortly: "Oh, he refused."

SHE CAME CLOSE UP TO HIM, TO SET HER HANDS UPON HIS SHOULDERS.

"Come, now," said he. "There is too much between La Tour d'AZYR and me. There is an oath I swore on the dead hand of Philippe de Vilmorin. I could never have hoped that God

Le Chapelier put his head in at the door.

"Forgive the intrusion. But we shall be late, Andre, unless you . . ."

"Coming," Andre answered him.

"If you will await my return, Aline, you will oblige me deeply."

She did not answer him. She was numb. He took her silence for assent, and, bowing, left her.

Standing there, half-frenzied by her helplessness, she caught again a sound of vehicles and hoofs on the cobbles of the street below. A carriage was approaching.

She sped to the door of the ante-room, and pulling it wide stood breathlessly to listen. It was a woman's voice asking in urgent tones for M. Andre-Louis—a voice at first vaguely familiar, then clearly recognized, the voice of Mme. de Plougastel.

Excited, she ran to the head of the narrow staircase in time to hear Mme. de Plougastel exclaim in agitation:

"He has gone already! Oh, but how long since? Which way did he take?"

Aline ran down that steep staircase, calling:

"Madame! Madame!"

The portly, comely housekeeper drew aside, and the two ladies faced each other on that threshold. Mme. de Plougastel looked white and haggard, a nameless dread starting from her eyes.

"The assignation is for nine o'clock in the Bois de Boulogne," Aline informed her. "Could we follow? Could we prevail if we did?"

"In the Bois?" Madame was flung into a frenzy. "The Bois is nearly half as large as Paris. But she swept breathlessly on, "Come on, Aline! get in, get in!"

Then to her coachman. "To the Bois de Boulogne," she commanded, "as fast as you can drive. There are ten pistoles for you if we are in time. Whip up, man!"

She thrust Aline into the carriage, and sprang after her with the energy of a girl.

They were speeding through the open country now, following the road that continued to hug the river. Mademoiselle broke at last the silence of hopelessness that had reigned between them.

"But it is long past nine, madame! Andre would be punctual, and these . . . affairs do not take long. It . . . it will be all over by now."

Madame shivered. Then she put her head from the window. "A carriage is approaching," she announced, and her tone conveyed the thing she feared.

In a cloud of dust an open caleche was speeding towards them, coming from the Bois. They watched it, both pale, neither venturing to speak, Aline, indeed, without breath to do so.

On the near side sat a swarthy young gentleman unknown to either of the ladies. He was smiling as he spoke to his companion. A moment later and the man sitting beyond came into view. He was not smiling. His face was white and set, and it was the face of the Marquis de La Tour d'AZYR.

For a long moment, in speechless horror, both women stared at him, until, perceiving them, blindest surprise invaded his stern face.

In that moment, with a long shuddering sigh Aline sank swooning to the carriage floor behind Mme. de Plougastel.

CHAPTER XI

BY fast driving Andre-Louis had reached the ground some minutes ahead of time. There he found M. de La Tour d'AZYR already awaiting him, supported by a M. d'Ormesen, a swarthy young gentleman in the blue uniform of a captain in the Gardes du Corps.

Their preparations were made quickly and in silence, yet without undue haste or other sign of nervousness on either side.

"Allez, messieurs!"

The slender, wickedly delicate blades clashed together, and after a momentary glaze were whirling, swift and bright as lightnings, and almost as impossible to follow with the eye. The Marquis led the attack, impetuously and vigorously, and almost at once Andre-Louis realized that he had to deal with an opponent of very different mettle from those successive duellists of last week, not excluding La Motte-Rouan, of terrible reputation.

As with a breaking sweep Andre-Louis parried the heavy lunge in which that first series of passes culminated, he actually laughed—gleefully, after the fashion of a boy at a sport he loves.

They settled down again; and again—on the principle this time that the soundest defense is in attack—it was the Marquis who made the game. Andre-Louis allowed him to do so, desired him to do so; desired him to spend himself and that magnificent speed of his against the greater speed that whole days of fencing in succession for nearly two years had given the master. With a beautiful, easy pressure of forte on foible Andre-Louis kept himself completely covered in that second bout, which once more culminated in a lunge.

Expecting it now, Andre-Louis parried it by no more than a deflecting touch. At the same moment he stepped suddenly forward, right within the other's guard, thus placing his man so completely at his mercy that, as if fascinated, the Mar-

Why the Silvertown Cord stands alone

FIRST and foremost, because it wears longer, because it looks better, and because, mileage considered, it costs less than any other tire at any price.

It is the pioneer cord tire.

It established the use of cord tires in America.

Its makers developed and proved every advance in cord tire construction.

It has always held the leadership.

It won its position by its quality.

It is not merely a "cord tire." It carries with it all the meaning associated with the words "Goodrich Silvertown Cord."

The Silvertown safety tread not only guards against accidents but adds to the miles and wear in the tire.

It has in it all the good faith, good will and good workmanship of Goodrich.

You can get it in any size, from 30 x 3½ up—and each and every Silvertown is the same quality throughout.

Your Goodrich dealer will supply you now.

This time Andre-Louis did not laugh. He just smiled into the dilating eyes of M. de La Tour d'AZYR, and made no shift to use his advantage.

"Come, come, monsieur!" he bade him sharply. "Am I to run my blade through an uncovered man? Deliberately he fell back, whilst his shaken opponent recovered himself at last.

TENNIS COURTS IN FINE SHAPE

Is tennis popular?

That question is easily answered by a glance at the Mound park courts opened Sunday for the first time. There are eight courts, at Mound park and they are occupied almost every hour of the morning, afternoon and evening. There is grass on the courts at this time, but within a couple of weeks it will be worn off and they will be in fine shape.

With the eight at Mound park and three at York park the Park Commission now has control of eleven tennis courts.

Anyone wishing to play should not forget to wear tennis shoes. Rules will be posted within a few days as some players insist on playing all day and do not give big courts to allow others to play.

Many Complaints

The Service Department has had many calls in the past few days from people who complained that garbage collectors were not taking away all the trash in the alleys. The following, Section 2, of the city ordinance, providing for the disposal of garbage, explains what comes under the classification of rubbish and should not be thrown out with the garbage:

"Rubbish shall be pieces of lumber, sticks, dead trees, branches thereof, cut or wooden ware, wooden boxes, or any litter or trash not classed as garbage."

Garbage must be kept in a suitable water-tight container, while a box or barrel must be provided for rubbish, says Director Gereaux.

Grandson Of Oil King Celebrated An "Early Fourth" By Shooting Self In Leg

NEW YORK, July 11.—The presence in Presbyterian hospital today of John D. Rockefeller, revealed that his 14 year old grandson, Nelson Rockefeller, was a patient there and incidentally disclosed how the son of the richest family in the world "just couldn't wait for the Fourth."
Details of the accident and the incidents leading up to it were not revealed until after Mr. Rockefeller's visit, which he made in company with the boy's mother, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.
The fact that it was "nothing serious," however, was evident from the oil king's smile as he emerged from the hospital. But to prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that "all was well" for Mr. Rockefeller, as he waited for his limousine, distributed dimes. The recipients were nurses, doctors and hospital attendants who formed in a knot about the octogenarian and his daughter-in-law.
On July 3, Nelson was playing in what he calls "his backyard" at his father's palatial mansion at Tarrytown, N. Y. with the new air rifle given him to celebrate the Fourth. He placed several shots in the gun and cocked it. While he had the barrel pointed to the ground, he is said to have pulled the trigger. A little hole appeared in the leg of his trousers.
He told his mother that he didn't feel anything. But several hours after the accident his leg began to swell. He was rushed to the Presbyterian hospital, where probing revealed that the shot had lodged in a tendon. At the hospital, its removal was described as "a simple operation."

FEATURES OF YESTERDAY'S BATTLES

NEW YORK, July 11.—The ram-raging St. Louis Cardinals were a half game nearer the league leading New York Giants today as a result of another devastating attack by Rogers Hornsby and his big bat. The great second sacker's twenty-second home run of the season, with two on bases, clinched the Cardinals' seventh straight and fifth in a row over the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-1.
The Giants, after coming close to a league record by pummeling their Pittsburgh twirlers for 28 hits and a 19-2 victory in the first game, lost a 5-4 decision to the Pirates in the second contest. The slugging achievement of the winners in the first game is one, better than the American league mark, held jointly by Detroit and Philadelphia, but is eight less than the old National league record, set by Philadelphia against Louisville in 1904, and three below the mark established by the Giants in 1901 against Cincinnati.
The Chicago Cubs took their fifth straight from Boston, 4-0, and strengthened their hold on third place as Brooklyn continued its slump.
Two records almost unique in the annals of the game marked Detroit's 6-2 triumph over Washington. Each of the ten Tigers in the lineup registered one hit, while the Washington outfield scored only a single put-out.
St. Louis was unable to gain on the Yankees, who were idle, the Browns dividing their third straight double-header with Boston, taking the first in 13 innings, 5-4 and dropping the second, 4-3. Incidentally, five of the six games have been decided by a single run. The leaders start an important series with New York today with a margin of a game and a half at the top.
Harris twirled the Athletics to victory over the White Sox, 5-2, while Cincinnati won a slugging match from the Phillies 11-7.

50 PER CENT DECREASE IN ACCIDENTS

For the first fifteen days of June there was a decrease of 50 per cent in the number of automobiles involved in accidents at highway crossings on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad as compared with the same fifteen days last year.
Since the Careful Crossing campaign began June 1st last, on all the railroads of the country under the auspices of the Safety Section, American Railway Association, the railroads have kept a close check on accidents and are reporting them to the Association. From the record made by the Baltimore and Ohio these first 15 days of the campaign to "Cross Carefully" it seems that automobiles are giving co-operation and are using precautions in going over the tracks.
There have been several distressing crossing accidents in the past ten days one of the worst being a case in Georgia where a car with six tourists was struck and all of them killed. Automobile drivers can avoid accidents at crossings where highway and railroad tracks meet if they use a bit of care. This was proved recently in the city of Baltimore where a No-Accident campaign was in progress. There had been thoroughly posterized, the newspapers had urged caution and the churches and schools did their part. On every hand the citizens were urged to take care of themselves when on the streets and drivers of vehicles joined in by driving cautiously.
On Friday of No-Accident week the railroads took a check of every automobile which passed over their tracks at established crossings and made note of the drivers of machines who took no precautions whatever to assure themselves that the way was absolutely safe. There were 61,000 machines which rased over the tracks within the city that day. There were only 275 drivers who did not slow down, look and listen for the approach of the train.
Out of the vast number of drivers there were only a comparatively small proportion who risked their lives, yet had each of these careless ones been struck by a train, which was entirely possible, the total would have been enormous. It is safe to say that had the check been made at some time when the No-Accident campaign in the city was not in progress, there would have been a larger number of careless drivers found.

Nose Is Broken

John Gentry, center fielder on the Lucasville baseball nine, suffered a broken nose in Sunday's game with the Hilltop Stars of Portsmouth. He was fielding a high fly ball and when it came within a few feet of him he lost it in the sun and it struck him on the nose. He is a son of N. & W. agent Gentry at Lucasville.

Oh You Hornsby
Roger Hornsby is now leading the home-run hitters of either league. He knocked out his 22nd yesterday.

You Need More Than A Laxative

To correct constipation, all organs of digestion and elimination should be helped. Try NR and see how much better you feel.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

To live and be healthy, your body mechanism must properly digest your food, extract all the nourishment from it and promptly throw off the waste that is left. This is accomplished by the processes of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the work of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.
The failure of any of the vital organs to do its work properly affects the action of all the others. Stagnant food in the stomach, indigestion, forced bowel movement does not help you get to be taking them all the time. Moreover, if you stick to any one laxative, you've got to be increasing the dose all the time. That can do you a lot of harm.
Stop dosing yourself with such things just long enough to give Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) a trial, and let the results show the difference. NR Tablets are not more bowel movers, their purpose is to correct the condition that induces constipation and give you real, genuine, lasting benefit. To improve your digestion and assimilation, give you a good hearty appetite, regulate your liver and bowels, tone up kidney action and give you a clean, healthy body, a good cleaning out.
Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is not harsh; it is mild, easy, pleasant in action; it relieves griping or pain ever follows its use; but it is thorough and sure. By its action on the digestive organs it promotes assimilation, which means extraction of full nourishment from your food, and thereby gives you new strength, energy, better blood, better appetite. By toning, not straining your lax liver, NR sends bile into the intestines, improving intestinal digestion. Lastly, by gently encouraging more vigorous bowel and kidney action, NR drives poisonous impurities out of and cleans up your body.
Just see how much better you feel in every way. Get a 25c box today and take one each night for a week. You'll say you never felt better in your life. NR is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

There is also a disposition to consider what the arbitration would do for new unions which successfully came into being in certain non-union territory of Pennsylvania under the impulse of a national strike. Thrift, Economy And Industry

Must Be Practice Of States And Nation

—SAYS JUDGE JAMES G. JOHNSON

ZANESVILLE, O., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Thrift, economy and industry must be the practice not only of individuals, but of states and nations, Judge James G. Johnson, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, declared in an address before the Rotary Club here today.

"The enormous waste and extravagance in our public affairs must cease," said Judge Johnson in recommending that efforts be made to increase trade and commerce of the country, which he declared were the sources of the means of payment of the country's debts.

"At no time in the history of Ohio has it been so vitally important that a just and equitable system of taxation be devised," Judge Johnson declared.

The remedy, however was not to be found by inventing new forms of taxation or by shifting the burden, he said, but "by the application of the principles of justice and equality in the placing of public burdens and by firm, unyielding insistence upon intelligent, constructive and not destructive economy."

The whole problem was one of plain business management, Judge Johnson concluded, "and the people of Ohio must realize that this year business is politics and politics is business."

M. Lord, and the estimates of receipts and expenditures for the future.

The program of the meeting called for an address by the president, recounting the operation of the administration's economy measures during the past year and outlining policies for the reduction of expenditures during the current fiscal year to combat the deficit of nearly $500,000,000 facing the budget.

MINERS AND OPERATORS DELAY THE ANSWER TO HARDING'S OFFER

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—(By the Associated Press)—The coal strike situation marked time today, pending decision of operators and miners as to acceptance of President Harding's proposal for the fixing of a new wage scale by arbitration and the immediate resumption of work meantime at the wage rates of March 31, last. The miners' representatives were delaying definite reply to the proposal until a decision is reached by the general policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America, summoned to meet here Saturday, while the operators' group also withheld reply pending opportunity for deliberate discussion of the plan with their associates.

After discussing the proposal with his associates yesterday, Alfred M. Ogle, chairman of the bituminous operators' group, indicated that they considered a plan for arbitration by districts offered by them last week as "the best and fairest way" to settle the controversy. John L. Lewis, president of the union, however, classed this as "obsolete in the light of the president's proposals."

VULCAN LAST TEAM ROMPS AWAY FROM THE N. & W. GANG IN LOOSELY PLAYED GAME, 7 TO 2

Wrangling and Errors Hurt Interest In The Contest

 Wednesday, July 12—Vulcan Last vs Central Labor.
 Thursday, July 13—Excelsior vs N. & W.
 Friday, July 14—N. & W. vs Central Labor.

In a game that was full of wrangling, errors and double plays, the Vulcan Lasters headed the N. & W. gang in a loosely played game, 7 to 2. The winners had sent two more runs across the plate in their half of the seventh, but the lowering clouds made further play impossible and of course when Umpire Yenger called the game, the runs had to be marked off the book, together with what hits and errors as had been made.

The Vulcanists whaled the offerings of Mr. Houston hard and often, although to the tall fellow's credit he said that had he been given the support a pitcher expects, the winners would not have run up such a large count. Not only were errors of all sorts of hues made behind him, but some of the plays pulled by the N. & W. lads would indicate their lack of reasoning. For most of the way the game was a real struggle, and until the fifth when the winners landed the game, but one run should have been scored off Mr. Houston.

Mr. Sissler was on the mound for the Vulcanists and he had things practically his own way. He allowed but four hits, two of which came in the fifth frame. In four of the seven innings he retired the Railroaders in order, and this showed the big right hander was strictly on his mettle. The playing of Manager Shultz, the hitting of McDaniels and Haupt were the features.

Quicker argument was started in the fifth as the result of an infield fly from the bat of Mr. Goode. Wells dropped the ball, and McDaniels who was on third, raced home. Keyser was on second at the time, and when the ball was thrown to third, Umpire Harlange called him out, not knowing that Umpire Yenger had ruled Goode's hit an infield fly, and thinking, of course, there was a forced play. After a long argument, following a decision that Keyser was not forced and therefore was not out, play was resumed. The game was a poor exhibition—very poor, and the fans were glad when it was over. FIFTH INNING
 Shultz singled to center. Staten beat out a bunt to first. Valodin flied to Sowards. McDaniels singled to center. Shultz scoring and McDaniels going to second on the throw in. Sowards dropped Wells' assist on Keyser's roller, filling the bases. On Rollins' roller to short, Sowards threw home too late, a play of woefully poor judgment. Goode popped an infield fly which Wells missed. McDaniels scoring. The batter was out. Then ensued long wrangle which interrupted the game for fifteen minutes. The N. & W. contended that Keyser was out at third. However, quiet was restored and the game resumed. Haupt rolled to C. Cooper for the final out. Three runs, four hits, two errors.

SIXTH INNING
 Sissler singled to center. Shultz rolled to short, but Cooper dropped Sowards' assist. Staten popped to the box. Valodin fanned. McDaniels singled to left, Sissler and Shultz scoring, the latter registering when Fannin dropped Shoemaker's assist. McDaniels, however, was nailed at second. Two runs, two hits, two errors.

German Girls Seek Work in Holland
 BERLIN, July 11—Holland's frontier made noticeable during the war as a favorite exit from Germany for fugitive prisoners of war, is again coming into the limelight through the surreptitious crossing of young girls anxious to get Dutch employment. It is estimated that Germany is already poorer by 20,000 female servants as a result of this practice.

NATIONAL REDS WIN A GAME

CINCINNATI, O., July 11—The Reds made it four out of five from Philadelphia Monday by winning the final game of the series 11 to 7. It was a slugfest match. Each team got 13 hits. The Reds pounded Ring out of the box in the first two innings, but the Phillies found Keck in the fifth and took the lead. Pinto, who had relieved Ring, was wild and had to be removed in the last half of the fifth. Singleton, who finished the game, was hit freely and received poor support. Gillespie pitched strongly for the Reds in the last four innings. The batting and fielding of Fonseca was a feature. Score:

ST. LOUIS, MO., July 11—Rogers Hornsby's home run with Black and Smith on base in the seventh inning gave the Cardinals a 4 to 1 victory over Brooklyn here Monday. SPLIT EVEN PITTSBURGH, July 11—New York defeated Pittsburgh by the overwhelming score of 19 to 2 in the first game of Monday's double header but lost the second game 5 to 4.

In the first game the Giants staged batting rallies in almost every inning against Hamilton, Glazner and Hollingsworth, while Neft was steady throughout. Carer's home run went over the left field wall at the same spot as his homer off the same pitcher went over on Friday. Meusel's homer was on a hard hit to right field that bounced over the low fence near the score board. The second game was much better played than the first, the locals putting up a stiff game after New York had taken a three run lead and winning in the ninth. Score—First Game:

RUSSIAN CURRENCY REFORM

BUT a small part of the human family was in need of the lessons afforded by the Russian soviet's fiscal experiments. That part probably has not been in the slightest degree impressed, so that no benefit has been derived from them. Withal, they have been interesting, and not least so in their latest development.

Russian currency under the bolshevik regime has been compared to the wildcat issues familiar in this country, a few generations ago, to the greenbacks that were so widely favored at one time. The analogy is by no means exact, however, in either of these instances. The Russian currency compares more precisely with the "energy dollars" which lately were suggested for the United States. These would have been backed only by the ability of the nation to earn, having nothing tangible behind them for redemption purposes. Russian soviet notes are based on the assumed capacity of the people to produce goods for which they would be exchangeable. But the goods have been wanting, the announced value of paper rubles has constantly declined and the government is powerless to give them any worth. Nominally the recognized money metals form the basis of national currencies; actually, due to changed conditions, credit is their more substantial basis. Russia has neither gold nor credit and its energy, or man power, is unproductive.

Notwithstanding this situation, the soviet printed paper rubles to the face amount of 75 trillions. This so-called money has been rated at 4,000,000 rubles to the dollar. By the simple process of enlarging the denomination of notes and increasing the product of the printing presses there was no limit to which the national wealth might attain. But it did nobody any good. The stuff was almost useless. Therefore a reform was simply effected as the evil was created has been established. Deflation is the order of the day. New currency is being issued. The old will be retired. The new is worth as much more than the old as can be visualized by the striking off of four ciphers from the denominations of the old notes. A 10,000 ruble note will be worth one ruble. The 75 trillions outstanding will be cut to 7,500,000,000. Instead of 4,000,000 rubles to the dollar, the new rate will be 400 to the dollar. But the money will be no sounder, for there is nothing more back of it.

An interesting feature of the new issue is the absence of the bolshevik slogan, that has been printed in several languages on all Russian notes: "Proletarians of the world, unite." This barred the currency from many countries on the ground that it was propaganda. Still, if the Russians cannot give their money a real value it will not circulate outside their national boundaries and will remain of small worth within them.

New York Day-By-Day

BY O. G. MORTIMER

NEW YORK, July 11—A super little shop with a gilded crest on its door has opened near the St. Regis. A jockey, silver buckled knee pants and all that, stands at either side of the entrance with arms folded in the musical comedy fashion of announcing the Duke.

Dreadful trees line the steps and from the street one expects a crash of cymbals and an eruption of corymbes. Its haughtiness is so overwhelming that the innocent proletariat passing by, come to a full stop and circle the curb on tip-toe.

Inured to snubs by many years of contact with head-waiters and box office attendants, I murmured the steps. One of the jockeys without long enough to hand be a carriage check—what a joke on him—and snuggled back into his plastic pose.

Inside was a long table with a magnificently high back chair at each end but no official greeter was visible. After a time I rather expected a sepulchral voiced automaton to ask me to step "this way to view the re-mains."

The tomb-like silence lasted for ten minutes while I jingled my quarter against the Columbian half dollar. Then soft steps on the stairs and the prince regent swept into the room. And the way he dropped his 11.5's, dears, is nobody's business. With his presence came the soft strains of muted pipe organ.

He inquired to know my "desire" in robes. All my life I've been a de-sirer, but robes have never become a consuming passion. There are only a few of us old-fashioned night shirt guys left anyway. He wanted to show me something in "morning, afternoon and evening robes" and led me up the stairs to where some colorful ad boys paraded in touting robes of every hue—from salmon pink to robin's egg blue. They come in sets. No less than three to each customer.

I think the jockeys missed me as I passed out. Although to be fair they might have had asthma.

Lincoln J. Carter has been called back to Broadway from the peace of the Illinois countryside to add a touch of melodramatic abracadabra to the cinema. It has been fifteen years since he visited the metropolis and in that period the melodrama has had its ups and downs until the Dopecrisp was its only haven. Carter's "Fast Mail," long the delight of the gallery, has been revived for the film.

It is being done by William Fox with the usual Fox flair for thrills. Carter wrote more than a hundred melodramas. They were clean plays in which virtue was over triumphant. His villains, entering to the plucking of violin strings, were riding horses, silken mustaches and merry jangling coats. "The real" always returned to the parental roof as the storm raged and while the orchestra played "Hearts and Flowers." Honest Jim was there too. Spurred for the city chap he forgave freely in that rugged way of his. But at that they beat the present day sex plays by a couple of city blocks.

years has been one of the meeting places for theatrical folk.

Down on LaFayette street are many Turkish bath-houses. In one, the details of the Herman Rosenthal murder were planned. There are plain clothes men who haunt them in search of clues leading to the solving of crimes. East Side criminals usually prime themselves with drugs and liquor before doing their murders and afterward they rush to the baths to hide and "boil out." Two detectives of the New York force act as "rubbers" in the bath-houses from time to time.

The Cup Of Life
(Arkansas Gazette)
Life is a crystal ball that brings with wine
Red wine of springtime, youth and love and dawn—
And unto you and me, and every man.
The wine cup comes but once; then passes on.

Shall we quaff slowly, knowing drop by drop
Its pungent sweetness? All the swift days pass
Unto the brooding hour that will bring
A withered hand that holds an empty glass.

Shall we drink deeply, drain in one swift draft
The cup of all its sparkling ecstasies? Life will be brief, but briefer still will be Upon our lips the bitter of its lees.

Sip slowly or drink of life's red wine—
The cup is charged with gladness and regret
Sip slowly and know that sweetness turns to tears,
Drink deeply and forget.

O, Quite Reassuring
"If we should fall now we'd be killed wouldn't we?" asked the timorous passenger.
"Most likely," said the nonchalant aviator. "But why worry?"
"I happened to remember that I got out on the wrong side of bed this morning and I'm superstitious."
"Oh, if that's the case I'll just keep the hood a couple of times and break the spell."

Practice Makes Perfect
First Goffer—See Jones, over there? Swear, why that man can—
Second Goffer—When alone can swear to a tee, eh?—Wayside Tales.

He Knew Wifey
Wifey—Well, goodbye, dear! I'll wait before the end of the week.
Hubby—Heavens, Noll, you'll have to make that $25 last longer than that.

Her Reason For It
Mrs. Brown—Mrs. Jay, do you like apples?
Mrs. Jay—Apples? I hate 'em! I wouldn't eat an apple for anything. My old mother died of apple-plexy!

SAMSON

AFTER awhile Israel did evil again and they served the Philistines forty years.

The Lord appeared to a woman and told her she would have a son who would begin to deliver Israel from the Philistines. She bare a son and called him Samson. The Lord blessed him. When Samson was grown he went to Timnath, there he saw a Philistine woman and told his parents he wanted to marry her. They went to Timnath. On the way a young lion met Samson: God gave him strength to kill it with his hands alone. The young woman pleased Samson well.

To Drill For Oil And Gas

GREENUP, KY., July 11—A contract has been let by the Hudson and Collins Co. of Lexington, Ky., to W. The deceased was born in Soloto west for oil and gas on the John C. Eastham farm at the mouth of Old Steam on East Fork in Greenup county. One geologist has made a very favorable report on this location and it is believed that oil will be found, as the oil well drilled in 1917 on the West lease, about one mile north, had a very good showing of oil. Mr. Forman has a string of tools on Bolt's Fork in Boyd county which will be moved to the new location Tuesday and work will begin at once.

Another location has been made on the Ed Elam farm near Hunnewell, Greenup county, by one of the largest oil companies in the state, and it is understood that work will begin this week.

COLUMBUS, O., July 11—Orders eliminating corporal punishment at both the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster and the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware, except by order of the managing officer and in his presence, were issued today by State Welfare Director MacAyeal. Dr. MacAyeal said no charges have been made against Superintendent Hastings at the Boys' School, but that the charges concerned employees only. The special committee investigating the charges is expected to report late this week.
